Ben Sukup (07) gives thumbs up after winning his second feature of the season.

Sukup takes second win

While Norfolk's Ben Sukup was racing to win his second feature of the season, a battle in the title hunt was cooking just behind.

Sukup started on the outside of the front row and quickly moved out front, running as hard as he could. After a couple of rough corners, Sukup said he slowed down a bit to maintain the lead and eventually the win.

But in the title hunt, Chase Osborne of Norfolk and Chris Johnson of Bloomfield started the feature separated by two points. With each position a point, Johnson had the points lead for most of the race as he ran second to Sukup.

Osborne was working his way to the front until a late race caution set the restart with Osborne and Johnson side-by-

Osborne got a good restart and took a stab at Sukup for the lead, however, Sukup separated himself from the field. Osborne then had to play defense and hold off Johnson for a couple laps.

At the end Sukup won, Osborne took second and Johnson placed third. Zach Zentner of Cedar Rapids crossed the line fourth as Nelson Vollbrecht of Stanton finished fifth.

That leaves Osborne with a three-point lead over Johnson, with three other drivers with an outside chance. Sukup is 10 points behind the leader, as the 2015 champion Robert Osborne of Norfolk and defending champion Jim Johnson are each 14 points back.

Shawn Primrose (1) gets around Ron Pettitt (12) in the feature. Primrose won his second feature of the season. Pettitt finished third for his fifth top 5 of the season.

Primrose takes second win

As soon as Neligh's Jason Wilkinson drives onto the track for the feature, he locks up the Stock Car track title.

Bruns is the two-time defending champion, but has struggled the last few weeks.

Shawn Primrose of Norfolk, who won the feature last week, is 32 points behind Wilkinson, despite racing one less night.

Wilkinson has been to the track all 13 nights, as Primrose has raced 12 nights. Primrose has been in the top 5 all 12 nights, as Wilkinson has been outside the top 5 only twice including last week when he lost a tire. He finished 10th.

Brauner was running sixth, two spots behind Wilkinson, when a caution slowed the field as the leader was exiting turn four

While the cars were getting lined up for the green-white-checkered restart, Brauner had a tire go flat sending him to the pits and the rear of the field.

After the restart, he managed to pass three cars in the final two laps to finish ninth while Wilkinson finished third.

third win of the season, edging out Sal Hernandez of Columbus at the checkered flag. Wilkinson was third.

Addison triples up

In the last 14 laps caution free, Justin Addison of Norfolk came through the field in the last restart to win his third of the season.

Addison is also the points leader with a 10-point lead over Colby Langenberg of Norfolk. The drivers' points are nearly identical, however, Langenberg's worse night is a 12th place and Addison's worse in sixth.

Addison has been in the top 2 eight times while Langenberg has only six. Langenberg has four wins to Addison's two victories.

In the week Addison led the final restart to take the win as Langenberg finished sixth.

Prauner was closing in on Addison in the final laps, but had trouble getting around Joey Haase of Norfolk for second.

Prauner got to four car lengths before taking the checkered second. Prauner, who is the two-time defending champion, stepped away from the weekly shows to chance a career in another racing series. However, an on-track incident destroyed his race car. He then returned to the local shows to finish out the season.

Haase finished third and is 39 points back in the title hunt. Fourth went to Cameron Meyer of Pierce, who battled for the lead early in the feature.

Brian Osantowski of Columbus led the first eight laps before falling to finish fifth.
