Eric Vanosdall (9) and Alex Banks (12B) compete in the heat race. Vanosdall led 20 laps won the feature, as Banks led five laps and finished third in the feature.

Vanosdall grabs victory

It was the first time this season a feature race went straight through without a caution in any class and it was Eric Vanosdall taking the Late Model victory.

The Hoskins driver started on the outside of the second row and was challenging for the lead by lap six.

Once out front Vanosdall pulled away. Outside of a few lapped vehicles, the leader cruised through the 25-lap feature.

The biggest battle came in the second position. Alex Banks of Newman Grove led the first five laps before battling with Cory Dumpert of York, Robert Osborne of Norfolk and Blake Andersen of Omaha for second.

Osborne was the first to stick his nose alongside Banks and then edge out in front of him. Banks came back to regain the second spot when Osborne was held up by lapped traffic.

That allowed Dumpert to challenge for second. Another lapped vehicle slowed the effort until Dumpert made it three wide passing Banks and the lapped car for second.

While Vanosdall was taking the checkered flag, Dumpert had closed the gap to just under a straightaway.

It was Vanosdall's fourth win at the track. Dumpert was second for his second top 5 so far this season.

Banks grabbed the third place for his career high finish at the track. Zach Zentner of Cedar Rapids finished fourth.

Chase Osborne of Norfolk rounded out the top 5.

Norfolk's Justin Addison posted his second win of the season last week holding off Cameron Wilkinson of Neligh

Chad Bruns of Wakefield led the first half of the 18-lap feature before Addison slipped by on the inside. Wilkinson followed through a couple of laps later.

Then for the final four laps, Wilkinson tried several times to get Addison off the bottom, but each time Addison drove away.

On the final lap, Wilkinson drove hard into turn three and got alongside to set up a drag race to the line. Addison pulled off the victory by half-a-car length.

Wilkinson's brother Kyle Wilkinson, also of Neligh, took third. Kyle Wilkinson got by Bruns with a few laps left and ran down the leaders. He finished on the bumper of his brother.

Bruns placed fourth and Shawn Primrose of Norfolk rounded out the top 5.

Addison and Bruns each won their respective heat races.

Ron Pettitt (12) avoids a tire kicked up by another driver in his heat race. Pettitt finished sixth in the feature.

Jeremy Hoskinson finished sixth in the feature.

Gage Koch (96) races with Tanner Uehling (58T) in their heat race. Koch placed second in the feature.

Top 3 in the Hobby Stock were Jason Wilkinson, Gage Koch and Ryan Fajman.

Ryan Fajman (3) won his heat race and finished third in the feature.

Wyatt Lehman (6) and Bryan Harms (48) race in their heat race. Wyatt later placed fourth in the feature.

Jason Wilkinson (52) won his third straight feature.

Wilkinson victorious a third time this season

In only four laps, Jason Wilkinson went from the back to the front to win his third straight feature win at the track.

The Neligh driver used the high side to go around Dawson Poesnecker of Ames, who led the first three laps.

The race came to a halt after six laps were completed, when Trent Johnson of David City flipped his vehicle. It is the second time this season Johnson has spent time on his side.

During the second round of practice a wet spot on the track got him into the wall and he rolled on the frontstretch.

Following the red flag, a battle for second allowed Wilkinson to pull away. First Gage Koch of Norfolk and Mark Arduser of Battle Creek ran side-by-side.

Koch moved into the second spot only to have Ryan Fajman of Albion run him down and battled next to each other.

With Wilkinson ready to take the white flag a caution came out erasing his lead. On the restart, Koch and Fajman ran together again just off the bumper of Wilkinson on the final two laps.

Wilkinson took the win with Koch edging out Fajman at the line for second. Wyatt Lehman of Norfolk finished fourth in his first night at the track.

Rounding out the top 5 was Arduser.

Trent Johnson (right) watches as safety crew help remove his car from the track after flipping in the feature.

Mark Arduser (4) takes the checkered flag to win his heat race. He later finished fifth in the feature.

Columbus driver slides his way to the f

It looked as if Genoa's James Roebuck was on his way to a win, but an untimely caution allowed Brian Osantowski of Columbus to pull off the win.

Roebuck led 14 laps, including the first seven laps which allowed him to pull a straightaway lead.

On the restart, Osantowski drove through the middle of the field moving from fifth to second in a lap and a half.

The battle for the lead followed with Osantowski trying high and low, however, after each attempt he lost ground on the leader.

Racing to catch back up, Osantowski finally got to the high side of Roebuck on the backstretch.

Osantowski clipped the backstretch jumped the cushion going into the turn some how got a good run out of it to sent up a slide job through turns two.

He successfully pulled off the lead and went on to win his first feature of the season and his fourth career win at the track.

Kyle Prauner of Norfolk placed second with Colby Langenberg also of Norfolk finished third. Prauner and Langenberg are only two drivers in the class to have finished in the top 5 every night this season.

Joey Haase of Norfolk placed fourth and Cameron Meyer of Pierce rounded out the top 5.
