Points racing begins at Off Road Speedway

As seen in the Norfolk Daily News

The quest for track championships is officially underway at Off Road Speedway.

For drivers who are pursuing IMCA points in the four divisions contested at Off Road Speedway — Late Models, Stock Cars, SportMods and Hobby Stocks — the season began in earnest during a windy but competitive Saturday night slate of races, with a guest appearance by the winged and nonwinged 600cc Microsprints.

After an extended absence from racing to deal with an ailing back, Norfolk's Tejay Mielke was denied an immediate trip to victory lane in the IMCA Stock Cars "A" feature when Cameron Wilkinson of Neligh sneaked inside in turn two and then, after the pair navigated turns three and four nearly even, edged Mielke by 0.12 seconds at the finish line.

Kyle Wilkinson, also of Neligh, finished a close third.

Norfolk's Ben Sukup and Wakefield's Travis Birkley alternated slide jobs seemingly corner after corner during the first few laps of the IMCA Late Models feature before Sukup settled into the lead.

Eventually, Cory Dumpert of York entered the fray and pursued Sukup for the remainder of the race, although he was unable to threaten for the lead even after a caution with two laps left as Sukup sped to the win.

Dumpert finished second with Birkley taking third place.

Wyatt Lehman of Norfolk got to the front late in the IMCA Hobby Stocks feature, passing Bloomfield's Trent Johnson, who had led most of the race's previous 12 laps.

Lehman then held off a challenge from Neligh's Nate Buck, who finished second, while Johnson picked up third place.

Spalding's Robbie Thome won the IMCA SportMods "A" feature in a wire-to-wire effort, leading all 18 laps, with David Johnson of Columbus taking second place ahead of Norfolk's Jonathan Jensen.

Keegan Osantowski of Columbus doubled up, winning both the 600cc Winged and Non-Winged Minisprint races.

Dominic White of Plainview and Greg Berry of Columbus finished in second and third place, respectively, in the Winged division, while Riley Osantowski — also of Columbus — finished ahead of Berry in the Non-Winged feature as the pair took second and third.
