Scott wins Lucas Oil MLRA feature at Off Road Speedway

• By RANDY POSPISHIL sports@norfolkdailynews.com

Johnny Scott showed why he is at the top of the current Lucas Oil MLRA Series points list Friday night at the Off Road Speedway.

The Lac Cruces, NM, driver won the 30-lap Super Late Model "A" feature on the first of a two-night visit to Norfolk, seizing the opportunity to pass front runner Justin Zeitner with a slide job while navigating turns three and four, then held off Zeitner during the final 15 laps. Zeitner from Malvern, IA, finished second after leading the first half of the race despite two cautions and a group of challengers which—along with Scott—included Chad Simpson of Mt. Vernon, IA, Aaron Marrant of Richmond, MO, and Norfolk's Tad Pospisil.

The feature began with 21 cars but, following four cautions, ended with 15. The cautions delayed the leaders catching up to lapped traffic; however, the speed of those cars at the front of the pack brought them into the lapped cars within a few laps on three occasions, although the cars were spread enough that the finish was not impacted.

Scott's win earned a $3,000 check, while Zeitner and Simpson finished in second and third place, respectively. Kolby Vanderbergh of Ashland, IL, took fourth place, with Pospisil finishing fifth.

Other local drivers competing in the feature included Eric Vanosdall of Hoskins (12th) and Junior Coover of Norfolk (13th).

Stephanie Reynolds of Norfolk recorded her first IMCA Hobby Stocks "A" feature of the season at Off Road Speedway Friday night.

Reynolds moved into the front of the 21-car field by using momentum coming out of turn two to pass the three cars in front of her following an early caution, then led the rest of the race despite six more cautions.

Neligh's Nate Buck, who moved up from the outside of the eighth row, finished second, while Shannon Pospisil of Norfolk took third.

Also making an appearance Friday night were the cars of the Midwest Stock Cars Association, competing in a feature won by Eric Cerny of Rogers, with Mike Ganskow of Columbus finishing second and Cory Proskocil of Ord in third.

On Saturday night, the MRLA cars will compete again, culminating in a feature with a $5,000 payout, along with regular points racing by the IMCA Stock Cars and the IMCA SportMods.

MLRA Series cars headline Off Road Speedway program for second night

By RANDY POSPISILsports@norfolk dailynews.com

For a second consecutive night, the Lucas Oil MLRA Late Models headlined the program at Off Road Speedway—this time competing for a $5,000 payout for a win in the track’s first-ever 50-lap “Renegade 50.”

Ultimately, Chad Simpson of Mt. Vernon, IA, came out on top in the 22-car field, earning his 15th MLRA career win, but his first since June of 2019.

Before securing the championship win, Simpson had to pursue Norfolk’s Tad Pospisil, who started on the pole and—posting the fastest time in the “Dirt on Dirt Fast Time” (00:13.556)—looked fast in pacing the field and holding the lead despite two early cautions before the race continued without interruption for the next 20 laps.

Simpson got his chance during lap 23 when the pair caught up to lapped traffic, pulling even, then passing Pospisil as the two cars exited turn four. Friday night’s “A” feature winner Johnny Scott also passed Pospisil on the next lap before the next caution occurred.

This caution—three laps later—came at Pospisil’s expense when Simpson clipped the lapped car of Cale Osborn, spinning Osborn to a location near the wall in turn two where Scott also made contact, but Pospisil then made solid contact with Osborn’s car—flipping into the air and rolling several times, although no one was injured in the incident.

Simpson led the rest of the way with Scott constantly seeking an opportunity to pass, while getting just one chance—with 18 laps remaining—when he pulled alongside Simpson briefly, but was unsuccessful in taking the lead.

Simpson wrapped up the win, with Scott, of Las Cruces, NM, taking second place and Justin Zeitner of Malvern, IA, finishing third. Kolby Vandenberg of Ashland, IL, and Ben Schaller of Omaha rounded out the top five. Area drivers among the top 15 finishers included Norfolk’s Ben Sukup (8th), Eric Vanosdall of Hoskins (11th), Jon Haase of Norfolk (13th), Chris Johnson of Bloomfield (15th).

Neligh’s Cameron Wilkinson picked up his sixth IMCA Stock Cars “A” feature win in eight nights of racing at Off Road Speedway. Once again, Wilkinson hurried to the front of the field from deep in the starting lineup—this time from the sixth row—requiring just six laps to take the lead from Justin Berschinger, who had inherited the front position after early leader Ron Pettitt left with car trouble. With Platt Center’s Austin Brauner taking second place and Norfolk’s Tejay Miellke finishing third.

Genoa driver James Roebuck won an IMCA SportMods “A” feature for the third time at Off Road Speedway by wresting the lead from Randolph’s Wes Hochstein coming out of turn four with 12 laps left. Roebuck then held off pressure from eventual second-place finisher Colby Langenberg, of Norfolk, and Columbus racer Mitch Coble, whose third-place finish was his third time among the top five at Off Road Speedway this season.
