Points Competition underway at OffRoad Speedway

By RANDY POSPISHIL
sports@norfolkdailynews.com

The racing season is still early, but the competition for points and the pursuit of a track championship are already in play for drivers in all classes at Off Road Speedway after Saturday night's regular slate of racing. Turning multiple wins into a lead atop the points standings are such racers as Anthony Roth and Cameron Wilkinson of Neligh, both with two wins in three outings in the IMCA Late Models and IMCA Stock Cars divisions, respectively. Likewise, Trent Reed of Mondamin, Iowa, has won all three "A" features in the new Pro Stock 4 class.

Roth, who has now won twice and also finished third in three tries this season at Off Road Speedway, made Saturday night's trip to victory lane an exciting one. The Columbus driver was on the outside of the top three, trailing race leader Chase Osborne, along with Beau Johnson and Cory Dumpert, until the final two of 25 laps when Roth made his move. Coming out of turn four of the white-flag lap, Roth darted past Johnson and Dumpert, then closed in on and passed Osborne for the win. Osborne, of Norfolk, and Newman Grove's Dumpert took second and third place, respectively.

Although Cameron Wilkinson's two victories came in the opening two weeks of racing at Off Road Speedway, his second-place finish Saturday night — as he chased brother Kyle across the finish line — gives him the edge at the top of the IMCA Stock Cars points list. Kyle Wilkinson moved quickly into the lead from the third row, breaking away from three-wide competition to get out front just three laps into the 15-lap feature, then establishing a straightaway-length advantage as three-wide racing continued behind him. Various racers, including Derek Sehi (Neligh), Cameron Wilkinson, Nate DeSive (O'Neill), Tejay Mielke and Jeremy Hoskinson (Norfolk), continued the battle until Wilkinson made his way into second place with seven laps remaining. Mielke, of Norfolk, earned third with a successful journey through lapped traffic during the final four laps to edge Hoskinson. So far, the IMCA Hobby Stocks points race is wide open, with a disparity among the three feature winners and top five finishers.

Winning the third "A" feature outing on Saturday was Neligh's Nate Buck, whose gamble following a caution and ensuing restart that positioned him on the inside of Jace Malasek behind race leader Gage Koch of Norfolk was successful. Buck drove hard into the low side of turn three and, after contact with Koch's car, left turn four with the lead while Malasek and Mark Arduser also passed Koch. The trio, despite two more cautions, went on to the finish line to take the top three spots — Buck in first, Emerson's Malasek in second and Battle Creek racer Arduser in third, with Koch in fourth.

The IMCA SportMods division have completed just two "A" features so far this season, allowing Saturday's winner — Cameron Meyer of Pierce, who also has a second-place finish — to hold the early points lead. Meyer started on the outside of row three among the 11 entries, then chased down and passed pole-sitter Wes Hochstein on the inside as Hochstein's car drifted up the track in turn two with six laps left. Meyer won the five-lap sprint to the checkered flat with Willy Kirk of Sloan, Iowa, moving up from the rear of the field to edge Randolph's Hochstein by a matter of inches at the flag stand for second place.

To win his third consecutive Pro Stock 4 "A" feature at Off Road Speedway, Reed passed six of the eight cars two laps into the 10-lap race. Reed then got by Zach Corder on the back stretch and, after coming out of turn four in second, eased by race leader Grayson Stobbe on the inside of turn one before cruising uncontested the final six laps for the victory. Stobbe, of Leigh, finished second while Corder, of Norfolk, was third.

Next up on the schedule at Off Road Speedway is a visit from the Dirt Super Late Models and the SLMR Super Late Models West Series, along with a regular night of racing by the IMCA SportMods, IMCA Hobby Stocks, IMCA Stock Cars and Pro Stock 4 cars.
