Defending points champion Kyle Prauner of Norfolk never missed a beat, as he led the final 13 laps of the feature.

David Johnson of Norfolk held off Prauner for the first five laps that led to the first caution.

On the restart, Prauner used the high side to make the pass for the lead. Johnson held on to the second spot, as Nelson Vollbrecht of Stanton and Matt Haase of Norfolk battled for third.

Vollbrecht got separation from Haase, when Haase bobbled in the ruts in turns one and two. Vollbrecht run down Johnson and made the pass by lap 13, just before the caution came out again.

On the restart, Prauner was leading, Vollbrecht second, Johnson third and Haase fourth.

Haase got by Johnson on the restart, but with two laps left Haase looped his car, bringing out the final caution.

Prauner took the win, Vollbrecht second and BJ Haase of Norfolk was third in his first crack at a SportMod.

Kevin Haase was fourth and Matt Haase recovered and passed four cars in the final laps to round out the top five.

Kyle Prauner (5k) and Nelson Vollbrecht (11x) locked horns in both their heat race and feature. Prauner won both and Vollbrecht was second.

Defending Hobby Stock champion Jason Wilkinson (52) won his heat race last week, but could not get to the front in the feature and finished third.

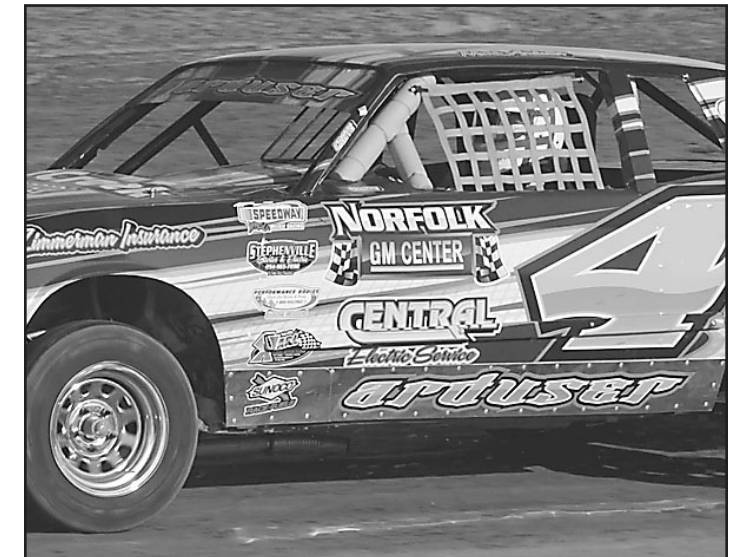

Travis Coover (7-11) leads Brian Campbell through turn four. Coover was eighth in the feature.

Past Junior Hornet champion Gage Koch (96) piloted his Hobby Stock last week.

Tate Weinrich (46) took a fourth place finish.

Mark Arduser (4) took a seventh place finish.

Two past champions, Jeremy Brabec (99) and Jim Kimmel (17k) battle in their heat race. Brabec finished fifth in the feature, as Kimmel was sixth.
