Close title battles; champions crowned

The final Riviera Raceway champions were crowned August 30 and three repeated and one claimed his first track title. Norfolk's Robert Osborne claimed his 14th title in 18 years in the Grand National division as Kyle Prauner and Shannon Pospisil, both of Norfolk, captured their third title each.

Prauner won his third straight SportMods title as Pospisil has won the Sport Compact titles in 2007, 2009 and 2014.

The newest champion is Colby Langenberg of Norfolk in the Hobby Stocks. He came up short in the 2013 season when he finished second to Jason Wilkinson of Neligh.

Only Prauner and Pospisil won their features on championship night. Prauner led the points going into the night and led all 18 laps for the win. Prauner won his title by two points over Nelson Vollbrecht of Stanton.

Pospisil on the other hand went into the night five points behind defending champion Ramsey Meyer of Pierce.

The duo started on the front row and ran side-by-side for four laps before Meyer tangled with another car and spun out.

Coming from back in the pack, Meyer came up through the field but needed more laps and came up 1 point short of equaling Pospisil's points.

Pospisil won, Lance Mielke of Norfolk was second and Wyatt Lehman placed third. Meyer recovered for seventh place.

Pospisil won the title with 357 points as Meyer scored 356. Norfolk Chad Jensen won his feature with Osborne taking second. Osborne won the title by eight points over Jensen.

TeJay Mielke of Norfolk won the final race, however came up two points short of the title. Langenberg finished second and Travis Coover of Neligh finished third.

Shannon Pospisil (00) won his third track title after outscoring Ramsey Meyer (21R) in the final feature.

Kyle Prauner (5K) celebrates his third straight SportMods track title

Chad Jensen (above) and TeJay Mielke (right) won their features, but were second in the track title hunt.
