Wilkinson does it again

The Hobby Stock division had the first repeat winner of the season. Jason Wilkinson of Neligh led the final seven laps for the win.

Tate Weinrich of Hoskins jumped out to the early lead. He led the 15-car field for the first eight laps.

Wilkinson started on the outside of the fifth row. He broke into the top 3 on lap 6. He went to the second position on the next lap.

The final caution came out and bunched the field, which is all Wilkinson needed as he bolted to the front to lead the final laps.

Colby Langenberg of Norfolk also used final restart to get by Weinrich. He finished second for his second top 5 finish.

Third went to Derek Sehi of Neligh and Kevin Haase of Norfolk finished fourth. Rounding out the top 5 was Weinrich.

Tate Weinrich (46) led eight laps before finishing fifth.

Derek Sehi (16s) tries to hold off Colby Langenberg (1J) in their heat race. Langenberg finished second in the feature as Sehi placed third.

TeJay Mielke (77) won both his heat race and feature.

Mielke puts the field behind him for first victory

Street Stock driver TeJay Mielke of Norfolk had a much better night than he did on opening night, when he smoked the field to win by half a lap.

Mielke finished second-to-last last week.

Because of his poor start, Mielke started on the pole and led the entire 16-lap feature, which went without caution once it started.

By the end of the 16 laps he had cleared the field by half a lap.

The Bruns boys filed in one after another again having all three in the top four spots.

Last week, Troy Bruns of Wayne led the group again and finished second.

Neil Bruns of Norfolk slipped into the third spot, one position better than last week.

Chad Bruns of Wayne finished fourth. Rounding out the top 5 was Eric Haase.

Mielke and Troy Bruns won the heat races.

Neil Bruns (74) had a second top 5 finish, placing third.

Eric Haase (20) took home his second top 5 finish when he was fifth.

Tad Pospisil (04) led the final two laps to win the "A" feature, last week.

David Babcock (71x) and Justin Bertschinger (90) tangle in turn four during their heat race.

Pospisil comes from "B" to win "A" feature

The soft track, due to recent rains, played a large factor in most of the outcomes of the races, as drivers enter the corners straight, but at any giving time the cars changed direction on its own in the corners.

The best race came in the Grand Nationals "A" feature when Norfolk driver Tad Pospisil came from the "B" feature to make a pass on Cory Haase of Norfolk with two laps remaining to win his first feature at the track.

Pospisil struggled in his heat race and was forced to run the qualifying feature. Pospisil finished in the final transfer spot meaning he had to start dead last in the main event.

While Pospisil worked his way through the field, Cory Haase of Norfolk and Jim Johnson of Plainview were tussling at the front of the pack.

Haase led most of laps, as Johnson had to negotiate most of the ruts that had developed. Johnson managed to get by Haase for a couple laps, but Johnson's car was jerked sideways and Haase moved back out front.

Dean Wilkinson of Oakdale took advantage of Johnson's trouble and moved to second. But the deciding factor in the race came when Johnson all but had to stop on the track to avoid trouble and stacked up the line of cars behind him.

Pospisil, who was running a higher line, never had to let up and went from outside of the top 5 to third in turn four.

With only six laps left, Pospisil had to chase down the top two drivers. Three laps later he got Wilkinson and set sail for Haase.

Pospisil found a smooth path around the oval and in no time he ran down the leader and with two laps remaining he was pacing the field.

Pospisil, who has only run Riviera Raceway off and on since 2006, picked up his first career win at the track.

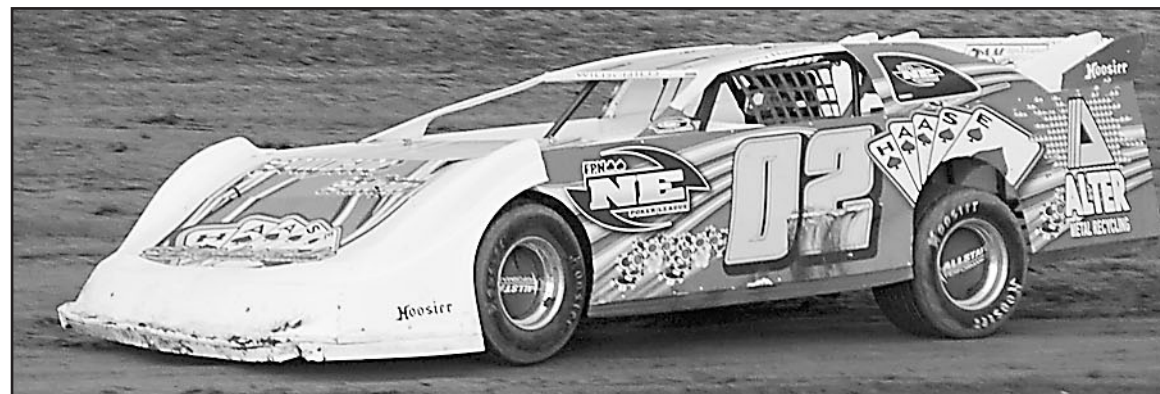

Haase settled for second and Wilkinson was third.

Johnson wrapped up the fourth position. Rounding out the top 5 was Robert Osborne of Norfolk. Osborne also came from the "B" feature, which he won. Doug Tomka of Stanton was the third transfer car. Johnson, Haase and Chad Jensen of Norfolk each won their heat race.
