

Jason Wilkinson (52) and Jeremy Hoskinson (26) battle in their heat race. Wilkinson won his fifth feature.

Wilkinson captures his fifth feature

Jason Wilkinson of Neligh continued his dominance in the IMCA Hobby Stocks winning his fifth feature of the season.

Wilkinson started on the outside of the fourth row and threaded the needle on lap seven and passed Colby Langenberg and Tom Marksmeier, both of Norfolk.

Langenberg tried to out brake race leader Travis Coover of Neligh, but hit a rut and shot up the track. Wilkinson jumped in between Langenberg and Marksmeier and in one turn went from fourth to second and on the bumper of Coover.

Coover led six laps with Larry Remsing of Norfolk leading the first lap.

Wilkinson got by Coover a couple laps later and left the field behind.

A caution erased his straightaway lead. On the two-lap finish, Wilkinson pulled away again for the win. Coover held onto second. Marty Steinbech of Fremont made a last lap pass to finish third. Langenberg was fourth and Matt Haase of Norfolk wrapped up the top 5.

Tom Marksmeier (92) exits turn four.

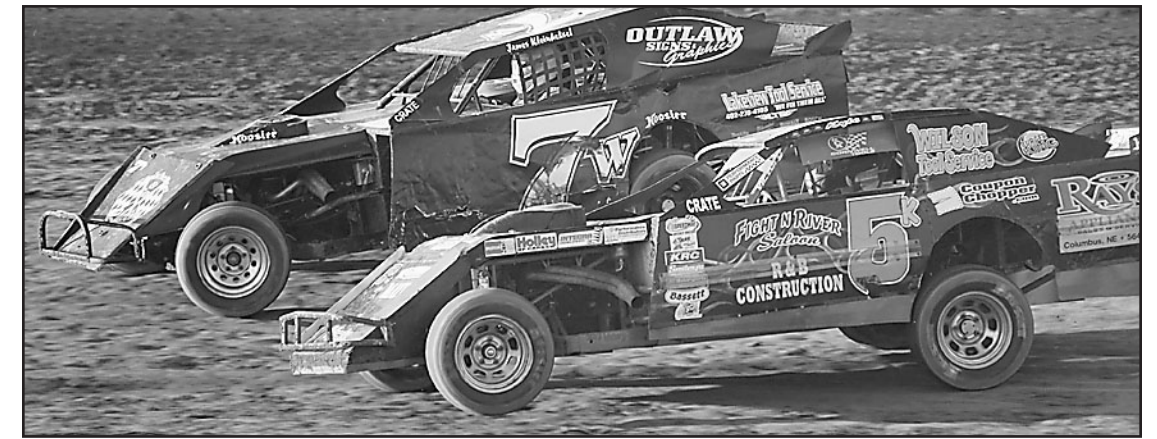

Travis Coover (7-11) leads Marty Steinbech (5) out of turn four. Coover finished second in the feature and Steinbech was third.

Larry Remsing takes the checkered flag first in his heat race.

Kyle Berck (14) returned to Riviera Raceway and took home the win in the feature.

Berck uses late caution to regain top spot for victory

It was a complete turnaround from last season, as Riviera Raceway played host to the Super Late Model Racing Saturday night.

Last year, the track was on the slick side and the local drivers were able to keep up with the bigger engines of the SLMR.

This season the track was tacky fast. But the biggest turnaround was Kyle Berck of Marquette when he finished last last season came through and won the event this season.

However, it always helps to start on the pole position. Berck got a favorable draw in his heat, which he won. That put him on the pole for the feature.

From the high side Berck led the first five laps, before Robbie Anderson of Blair hooked up on the low side and made the pass for the lead.

Corey Zeitner of Bellevue also passed Berck on the low side to drop Berck to third. Zeitner got the advantage on Anderson three laps later and made the pass for the lead.

Once in the lead, Zeitner pulled away from the field and by lap 17 caught lapped traffic. Berck, who came back on the lower side, moved back into second, as Bill Leighton, Jr. Omaha followed into the third spot.

With only three laps remaining, Berck had no chance of catching Zeitner, however Leighton spun in turn two and brought out a caution, erasing Zeitner's straightaway lead.

With a second chance, Berck said he knew Zeitner would not move off the bottom and he had to work the high side to make a run for the win.

Berck went into turn three and four and "threw it" to the high side. He said it stuck and he passed Zeitner exiting the corner. Zeitner fought back in turns one and two, but Berck had the momentum off the high side.

Berck took the win, Zeitner finished second, as Mike Marushak of David City was third. Travis Dickes of Madison finished fourth. Anderson rounded out the top 5.

Jim Johnson of Plainview was the highest Riviera regular at the sixth spot, followed by Junior Coover of Norfolk seventh and Chris Johnson of Bloomfield eighth.

A huge crash on the first attempt to start the 25-lap feature had four cars out of the race and several more damaged.

Jim Johnson (36) races with Rick Vanderheiden (17v) in their heat race. Johnson was the highest finishing local driver during the SLMR visit.

Robbie Anderson (82) runs inside Chad Jensen (73) during their heat race. Anderson finished fifth in the feature.

Corey Zeitner (z62) led 14 laps before a caution erased a lead he had built up. He finished second.
