Jensen wins first of season

Victory for Little Haase

Second one for Meyer

Bruns takes win

Older Haase matches brother with trip to victory lane

Official Souvenir Program

Defending track champion Chad Jensen (73) picked up his first feature win of the season. He led only the final lap in the feature.

Jensen takes first win of season

Grand National driver Chad Jensen of Norfolk made a last lap pass for the win on Robert Osborne of Norfolk, which drew a few boos from the crowd. By the time the Grand Nationals took to the track, the surface had formed two lanes around the roughest part of the track. Alex Banks of Norfolk led the field for the first 11 laps, but he gave up the spot to Cory Haase of Norfolk.

With Haase running the high side, Robert Osborne tried to make the pass on the inside. However, Haase's momentum kept him in control.

It would be on a restart the two drivers changed lines and that allowed Osborne to make the pass wall.

Jensen took the checkered flags with Osborne second. Jim Johnson of Plainview took third passing Haase with three laps remaining.

Eric Vanosdall of Winside finished fourth and Chris Johnson rounded out the top 5.

On the exit of turn two Jensen pushed high and Osborne had to back off to avoid the backstretch wall.

Jensen took the checkered flags with Osborne second. Jim Johnson of Plainview took third passing Haase with three laps remaining.

Eric Vanosdall of Winside finished fourth and Chris Johnson rounded out the top 5.

Meyer edges out Hurlbert; Haase wins first feature

The Hornet's had a too-close-to-call finish with Pierce's Cameron Meyer winning, edging out Garrett Hurlbert of Winside.

Shannon Pospisil of Norfolk led the first lap, but Jeb Dunklau of Norfolk busted out front. Dunklau led the field for the next three laps.

For the next two laps Hurlbert, Dunklau and Meyer were side-by-side at the line.

Hurlbert came out with the lead. On lap 10 of 12 laps, Hurlbert and Meyer battled for the lead. The two crossed the finish line door-to-door with the officials making the call Meyer had taken the win.

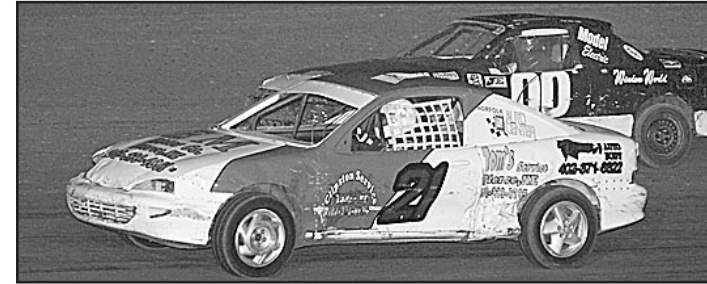

Pospisil finished third.

The Junior Hornet drivers have gained more confidence and raced harder, maybe too hard in some cases. Joey Haase of Norfolk held onto the lead after getting hit and nearly spun out. He went on to win.

Haase has led a lot of laps this season, but has not been able to take the checkered's first.

Friday night he finished the deal and took his first win. It looked like he was going to have it taken away when another car got him sideways, but Haase, a grandson of legend Raymond Haase, recovered and held onto the lead.

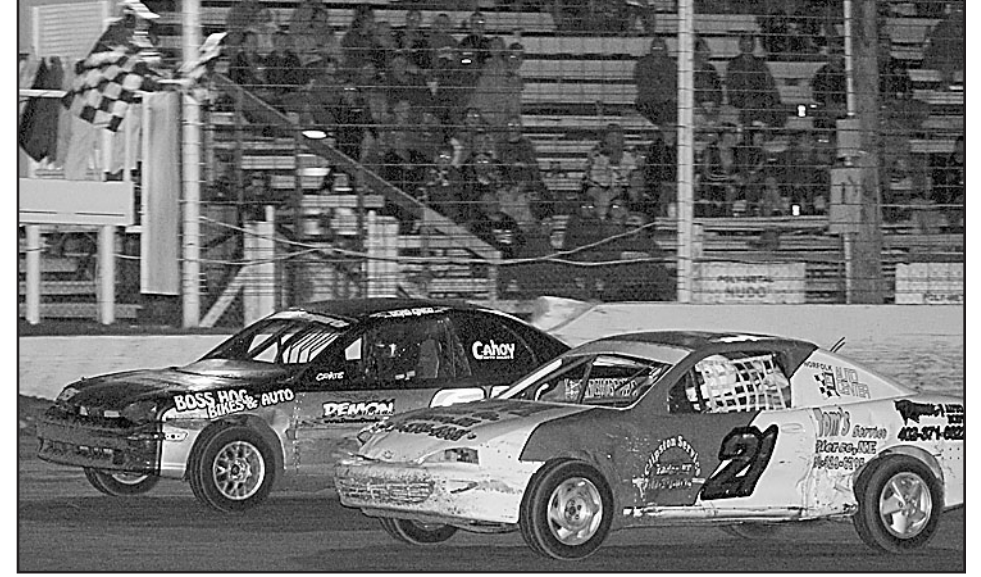

Haase won, Phillip Mrsny of Norfolk second and Gage Koch of Norfolk third.

Cameron Meyer (21) runs the inside of Shannon Pospisil. Pospisil finished third, as Meyer won it.

Austin Smith (24) gets into the side of Phillip Mrsny (27) after making contact with Gage Koch (96) during the feature.

Cameron Meyer (21) edges out Garrett Hurlbert (85) at the checkered flags during the feature last week.

Joey Haase (02) is turned sideways, but was able to maintain the lead to win the Junior Hornet feature.
