

TeJay Mielke (77) led Justin Bertschinger (90) in both the heat race and the feature. Mielke won both and Bertschinger took second.

Three-in-a-row for Mielke

TeJay Mielke of Norfolk claimed his third straight feature win. Jared Rodgers of Norfolk led the first seven of 16 laps.

Rodgers was pulling away from the field as Eric Haase of Norfolk, Justin Bertschinger of Norfolk and Mielke were battling for second.

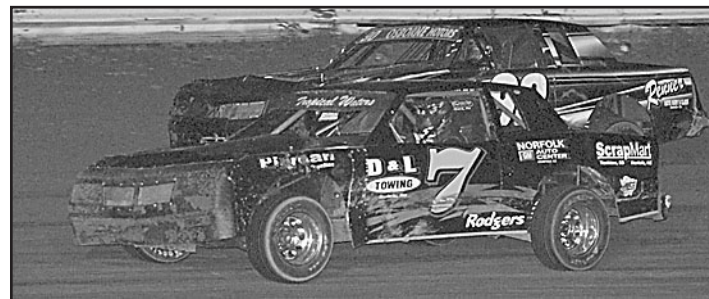

But the close racing ended in a caution with Troy Bruns of Wayne collided with Haase who had to check up.

On the restart, Rodgers was leading, Mielke second and Neil Bruns of Norfolk third.

Mielke took advantage of the restart and passed Rodgers on the next lap.

Mielke led the final laps for the win. Rodgers fell out of the top 3, but came back a lap later to lock horns with Bertschinger.

Bertschinger eventually took the second position and Neil Bruns took third.

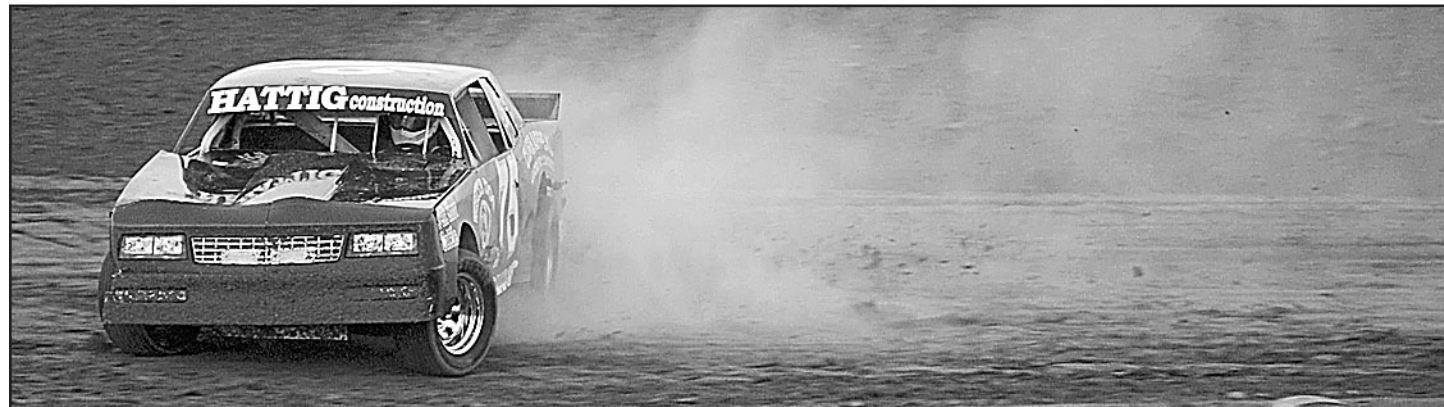

Jared Rodgers (7) led the first seven laps. He finished fourth.

Neligh trio one-two-three

It was three Neligh drivers taking the top 3 spots in the Hobby Stock feature last week. Neligh's Derek Sehi was the driver to come out on top.

Tracy Buck of Neligh led first 12 laps before Sehi made the pass.

Sehi started on the outside of the second row and was third on the completion of the first lap. Sehi passed Larry Remsing of Norfolk for second by the third lap.

With three laps left, Sehi made the pass on Buck for the win. Buck took second.

TB Coover of Neligh rounded out the top 3 holding off Matt Haase of Norfolk.

Mark Arduser (4) and TB Coover (711) battle in the feature. Coover finished third.

Tracy Buck (28) got run up high in his heat and later finished second in the feature.

Robert Osborne (35) finished fourth in the feature.

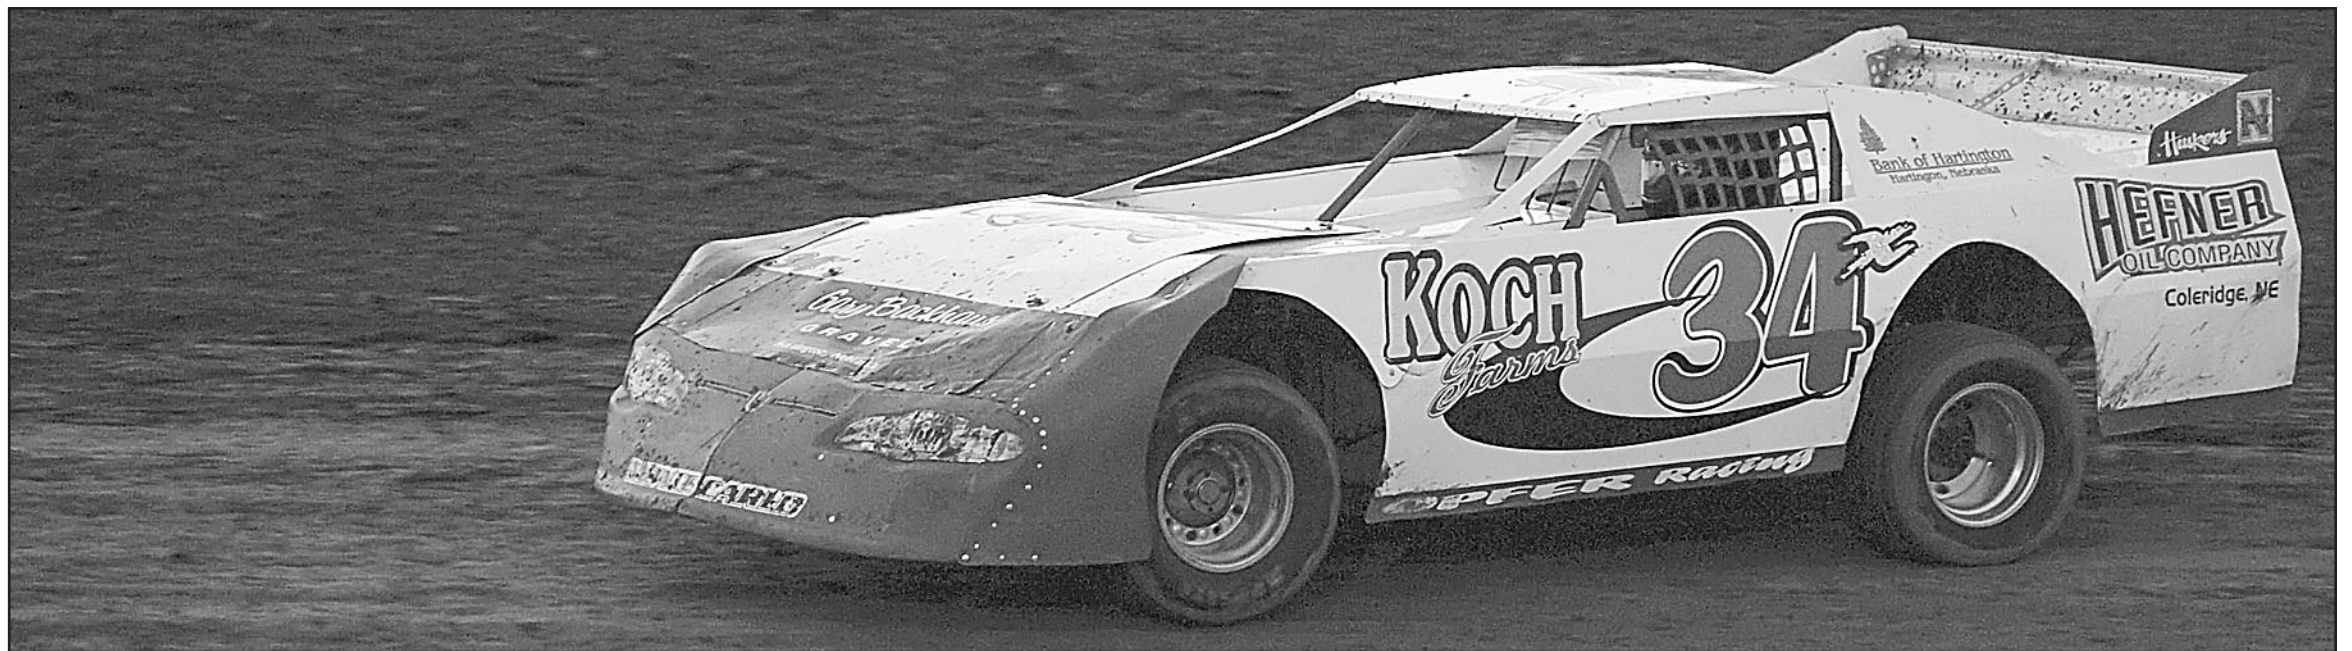

Alex Banks (12) finished sixth in the feature.

James Kelley (28) made his first appearance.

Chris Johnson (7) pulls through the corner.

Nick Opfer (34) picked up his first win since 2003 holding off the hard-charging Cory Haase (02).

Eric Vanosdall (9) finished with a fifth in the feature. Ben Sukup was 10th.

Opfer out lasts bumper tag with Haase

Grand National driver Nick Opfer of Hartington returned to victory lane in his division.

Opfer raced Street Stock from 1998 to 2001 and won six races. He moved up to Grand Nationals in 2002. He raced two years at the track in the Grand National division where he won one race in 2003.

Friday night, Opfer led all 25 laps from the outside pole to take the win.

At the start of the feature, Cory Haase of Norfolk settled in behind

Opfer on lap four when he passed Alex Banks of Norfolk.

On lap 10 and 11, Haase was door-to-door at the start-finish line, but still was unable to make the pass for the lead.

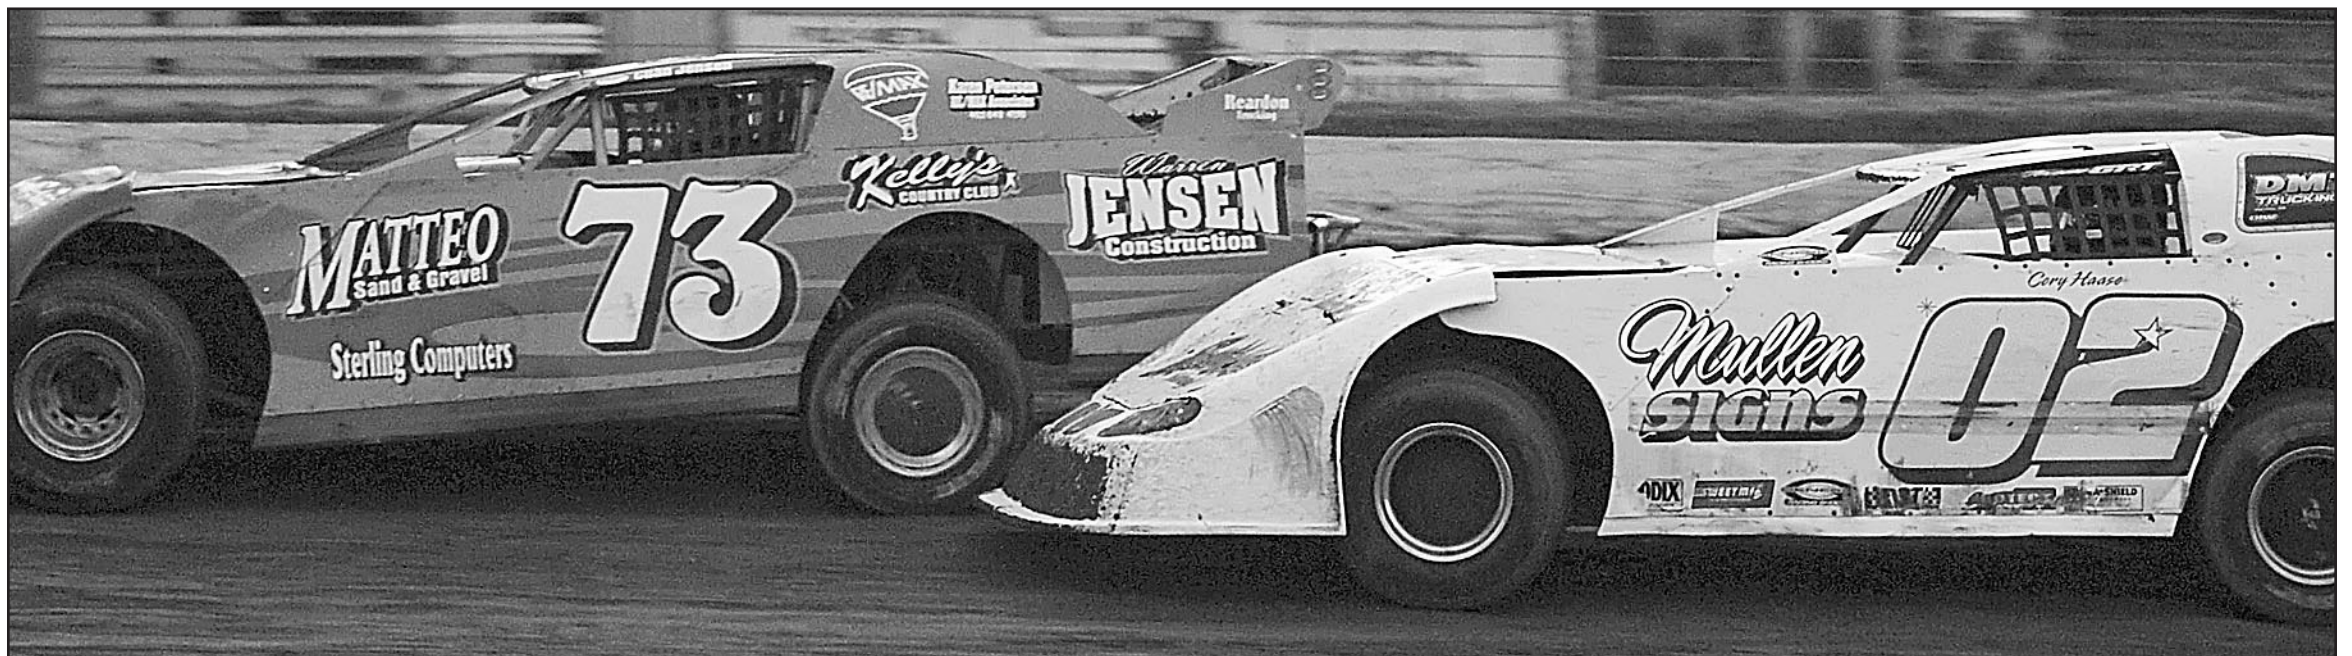

Haase worked on Opfer's rear bumper for most of the remaining laps, but the Hartington driver managed to maintain the lead each time Haase made an attempt.

Opfer picked up the win and Haase was second.

Chad Jensen of Norfolk had an up and down night. He moved into the third spot on lap six, but fell to fourth on lap 13 when Robert Osborne of Norfolk got by.

Jensen regained the third spot when he got back around Osborne on lap 21. Jensen took third and Osborne finished fourth. Eric Vanosdall of Winside rounded out the top 5.

Osborne and Vanosdall took heat race wins.

Cory Haase (02) and Chad Jensen (73) fly down the front stretch in their heat race. Haase was second in the feature and Jensen was third.
