Chalk one up for Termansen

Yankton resident bags his first

It was another disappointing night for the leader of the Street Stock "A" feature last Saturday, as again the car that led the most laps failed to finish the race.

But it was Yankton's Kim Termansen who led the most important one, as he chalked up his first win this season at the track.

Brian Wagner of Winnetoon led from the drop of the green flag, but as he was completing lap nine he slowed, dropped from the lead and later stopped on the back stretch causing a yellow flag.

Termansen, who had been battling side-by-side with Wagner, went onto lead the final laps to pick up the win.

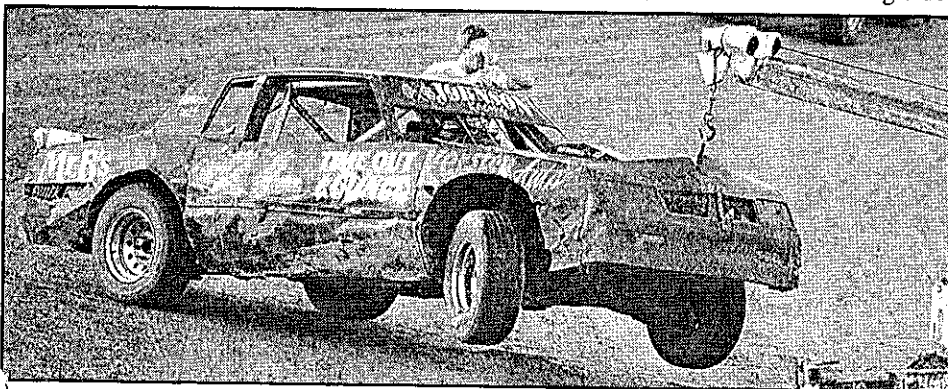

Termansen started in the eighth position and quickly moved through the field and on the third lap he was knocking at Wagner's back door. Termansen had gotten by Wagner on the fifth lap, but a caution gave Wagner the lead back.

Wagner then would suffer a problem and drop from the race.

On the restart, Termansen would pull away from the second place car of Travis Loecker of Bloomfield and Joel Carlson of Winside, as they went door handle to door handle.

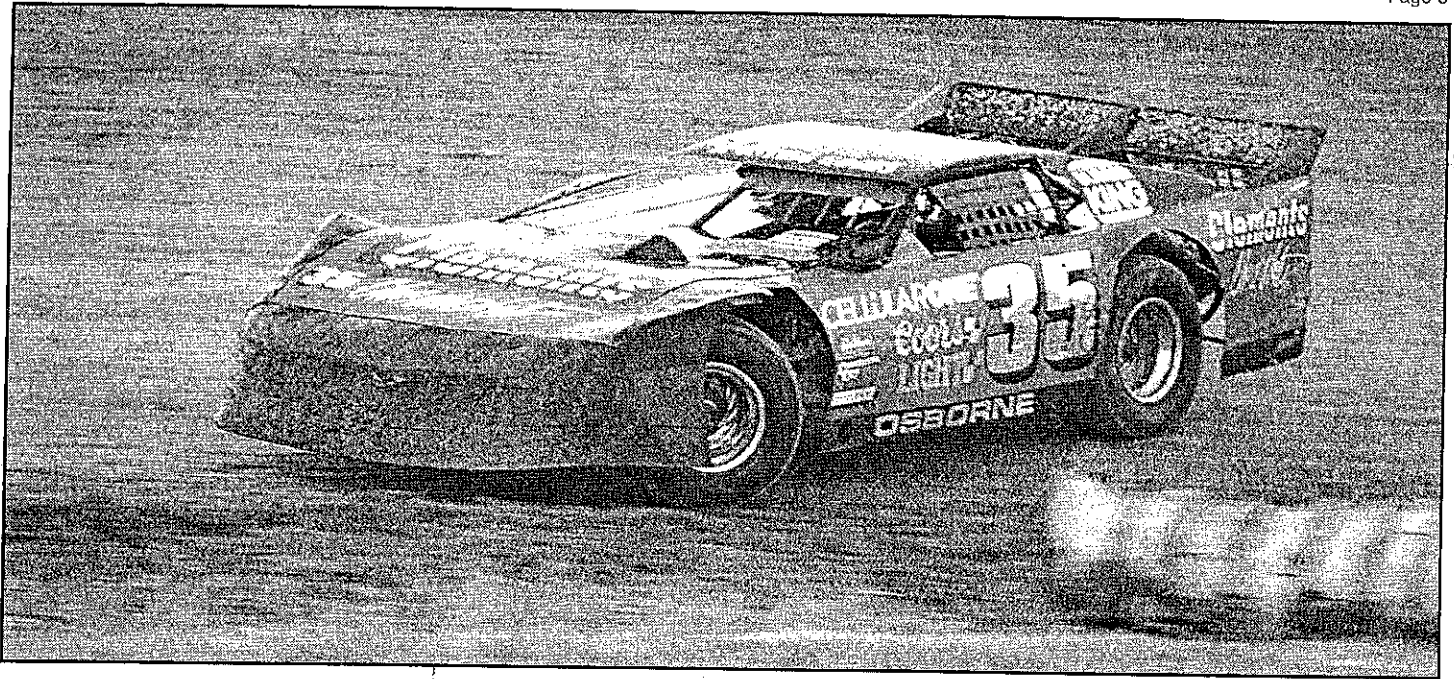

Loecker secured second and made another hard charge for the win, but would come up short at the finish. Loecker's second place was the second consecutive and third this season.

Rolling across the line third, Carlson picked up his fifth top 5 of the year. Chris Johnson of Bloomfield was fourth, while

It was another night for numerous cautions, this time the top four drivers failed to finish the "A" feature. Above, Jim Johnson (36) was pulled from the track during his heat race. He came back to win the "C" feature.

First-time win/please see page 8

Osborne's patience outlasts field, takes home first win of season

Riviera Raceway played host to the "Bud 500" last Saturday night and with extra money in the purse, the racing became very competitive throughout the night.

But, it was not a quick night, as 17 cautions, lighting problems and another guard rail repair slowed down the night.

The temperature for the fans was tolerable, but the heat on the track came to a boil when several late lap incidents changed the outcome of the top running cars in the Grand National division.

Scott Phillips of Norfolk took the hardest lick when his machine clipped another car and shot up into the third turn guard rail. He was leading at the time and was not seriously injured.

The next 19 of 25 laps proved the most exciting as race fans watched Curt Zuhlke of Bancroft and Osborne maneuver through the 15-car field. While up front, leader Bob Milander of Norfolk kept youngster Travis Roth of Bancroft at bay, as they tried to race on the same piece of track.

The level of competition was stepped up a notch when Zuhlke and Osborne caught the leaders on lap 13. The first battle of the war came when Zuhlke caught the second place car of Roth. The two got to working on each other and nearly was passed by Osborne, who tried to sneak around on the high side.

Finally on lap 19, Zuhlke crept passed Roth and moved to second, but on the next lap Zuhlke and leader Milander drifted high in turn four. This time Osborne not only snuck up on them but darted through the middle and grabbed the lead.

Osborne said the middle opened up and with a good bit of four he managed to go from fourth to first in one turn.

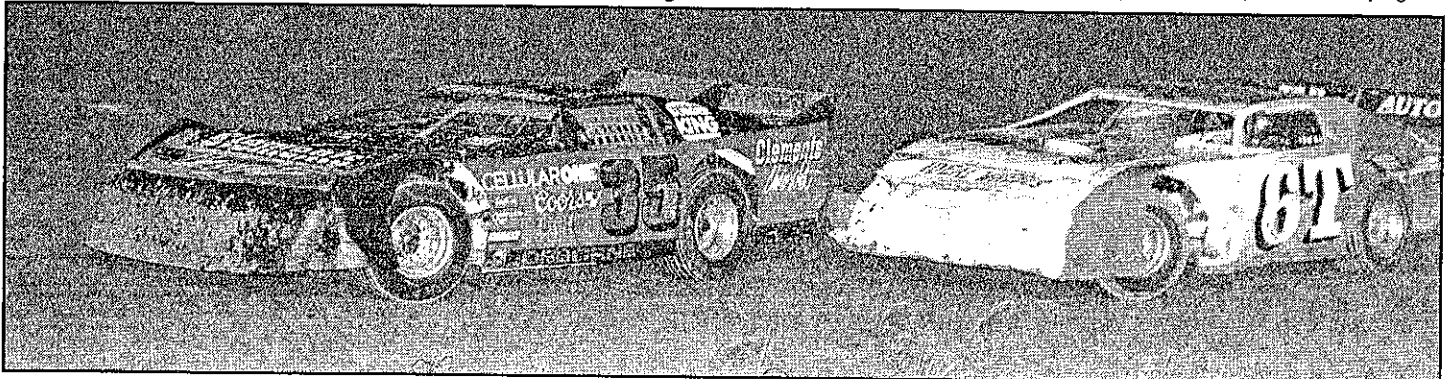

The incident produced a caution on the next lap, which placed Osborne in the driver's seat, Roth second, Zuhlke third and the older Roth, Reggie, in fourth.

On the restart, R. Roth got a run on Zuhlke and made the pass for third. One lap later, he passed his son for second.

The last caution of the race flew for the second battle of the war, when Zuhlke and T. Roth tangled, ruining any chances for either driver to contend for the win.

T. Roth was sent to the rear of the field, while Zuhlke unexpectedly pulled off the track, ending his bid for his fifth consecutive "A" feature win.

Osborne wins/ please see page 7

Robert Osborne (35) leads Travis Roth (6T) out of turn two, during the final stages of the "A" feature.

Osborne wins

T. Roth's best finish came back on May 30 when he finished third to winner Bill Wells of Norfolk and his father. He was looking to match or better the mark before the incident with Zuhlke occurred three laps from the end of the race.

Osborne went onto win his first feature this year and his eighth top five finish in nine racing nights.

Second went to R. Roth, his sixth top five, while third was handed to Steve Matthies of Norfolk, matching his best effort of the year. Matthies came from the "B" feature where he finished second. It was also his fourth "A" feature top 5 finish this season.

Keith Hansen of Norfolk made his return to the track after his hard crash on the back stretch several weeks ago.

Hansen sat out last week, but returned to finish fourth in the "A" feature.

Raymond Haase of Norfolk rounded out the top five, taking home his sixth top five finish this season.

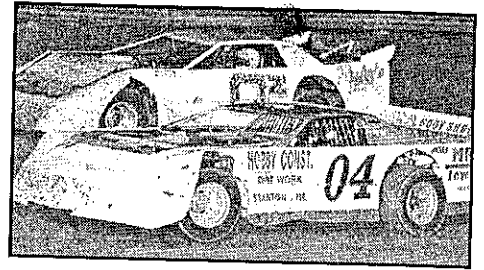

Jeff Haase of Norfolk grabbed his second "B" feature passing Matthies on the final lap. Travis Dickes was third in the "B."

R. Roth continues to dominate in the heat races. By the second lap in the first heat race, R. Roth had passed the other seven cars to gain the point. This was his ninth heat race win.

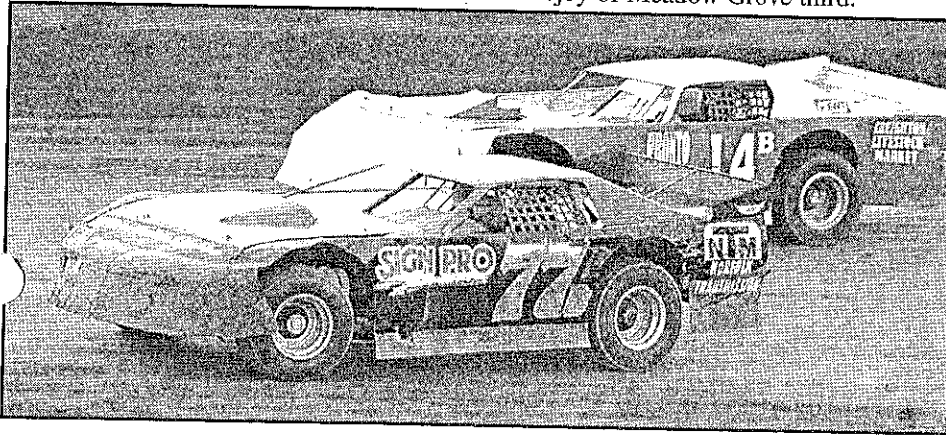

Milander held off R. Haase to pick up his first heat race win of the year.

Osborne clipped Phillips on the final lap to win the third heat. It was his third victory this season.

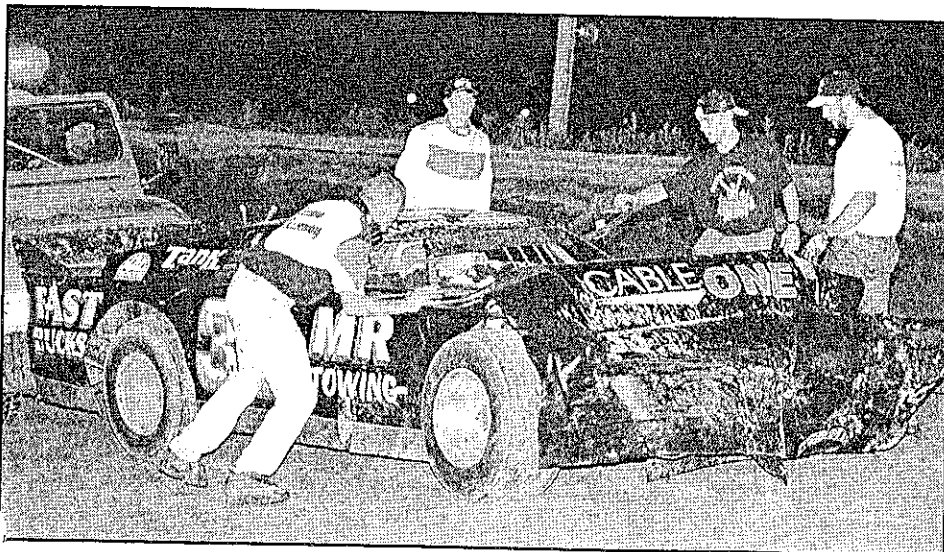

Osborne extends his lead in the points standings. Roth maintains second and Vic Lovejoy of Meadow Grove third.

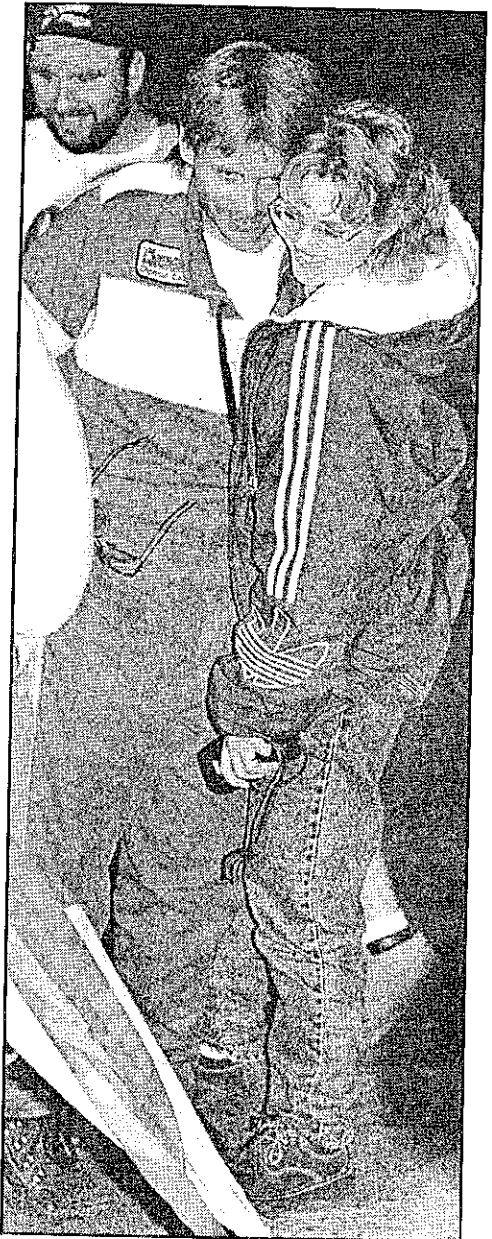

Keith Hansen (04) made his return to the raceway, after sitting out one week following a hard crash the previous week.

Bob Milander (77B) stays on the inside of Mike Beckman (14B) during their heat race. Milander has led more laps in the last four "A" features than any other driver, but has not yet led the last one.

Scott Phillip's #33 machine is removed from the guard rail after he shot up the track and took a portion of the rail out. He was not seriously injured.

Robert Osborne (35) is greeted by his wife Julie, after he won the Grand National "A" feature. Osborne is the defending champion and the current points leader.

First-time win

Jim Kimmel of Norfolk had his best effort of the year finishing fifth.

The points battle was shaken up with the top four drivers in the points race dropping from the race.

Ron Pettitt of Pierce had the best finish at 14th, while Darrell Doerr of Plainview was 15th. Both dropped from the race when a car got side ways. Pettitt took out the front end of his car and Doerr nailed the guard rail ending his night.

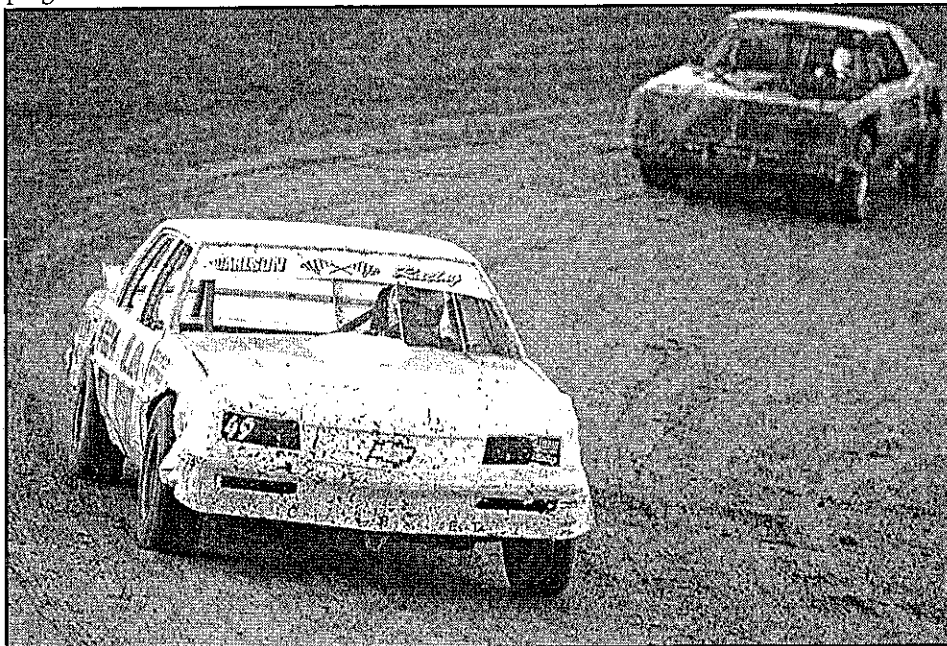

Jim Johnson was towed from the track in his heat race. He later returned to win the "C" feature, but finished one position out of transferring to the "A" feature from the "B" feature.

Nick Opfer of Hartington was the other driver to not make it to the "A" feature. He finished second in the "C" and sixth in the "B."

Kimmel won the "B" feature with Pettitt finishing second.

Termansen picked up his third heat race win, while both C. Johnson and Carlson took their second wins of the year. Pat Jensen of Stanton cruised to his first heat race win of the year.

Joel Carlson (49) leads Brian Wagner (3) out turn four to win his heat. Carlson finished third in the "A."

Cory Haase (2x) bounces off the wall before crossing the finish line in his heat race.

Chris Johnson (7J) survives his heat to win it, as the nose of the car was ripped from it. He finished fourth in the "A" feature.
