Termansen does it again

Fourth win for No. 61T

Sometimes a little hard work pays off and sometimes lady luck is in your corner.

For Yankton's Kim Termansen it was a little bit of both, as he picked up his fourth win of the season and grabs the points lead as well.

The Street Stock driver said he knew he had his work cut out for him when Jim Johnson of Bloomfield got him early in the race. Termansen was forced to brake hard to avoid an incident allowing Johnson to get by.

He then knew it was going to be tough to get back by him. But that is when lady luck came into the picture.

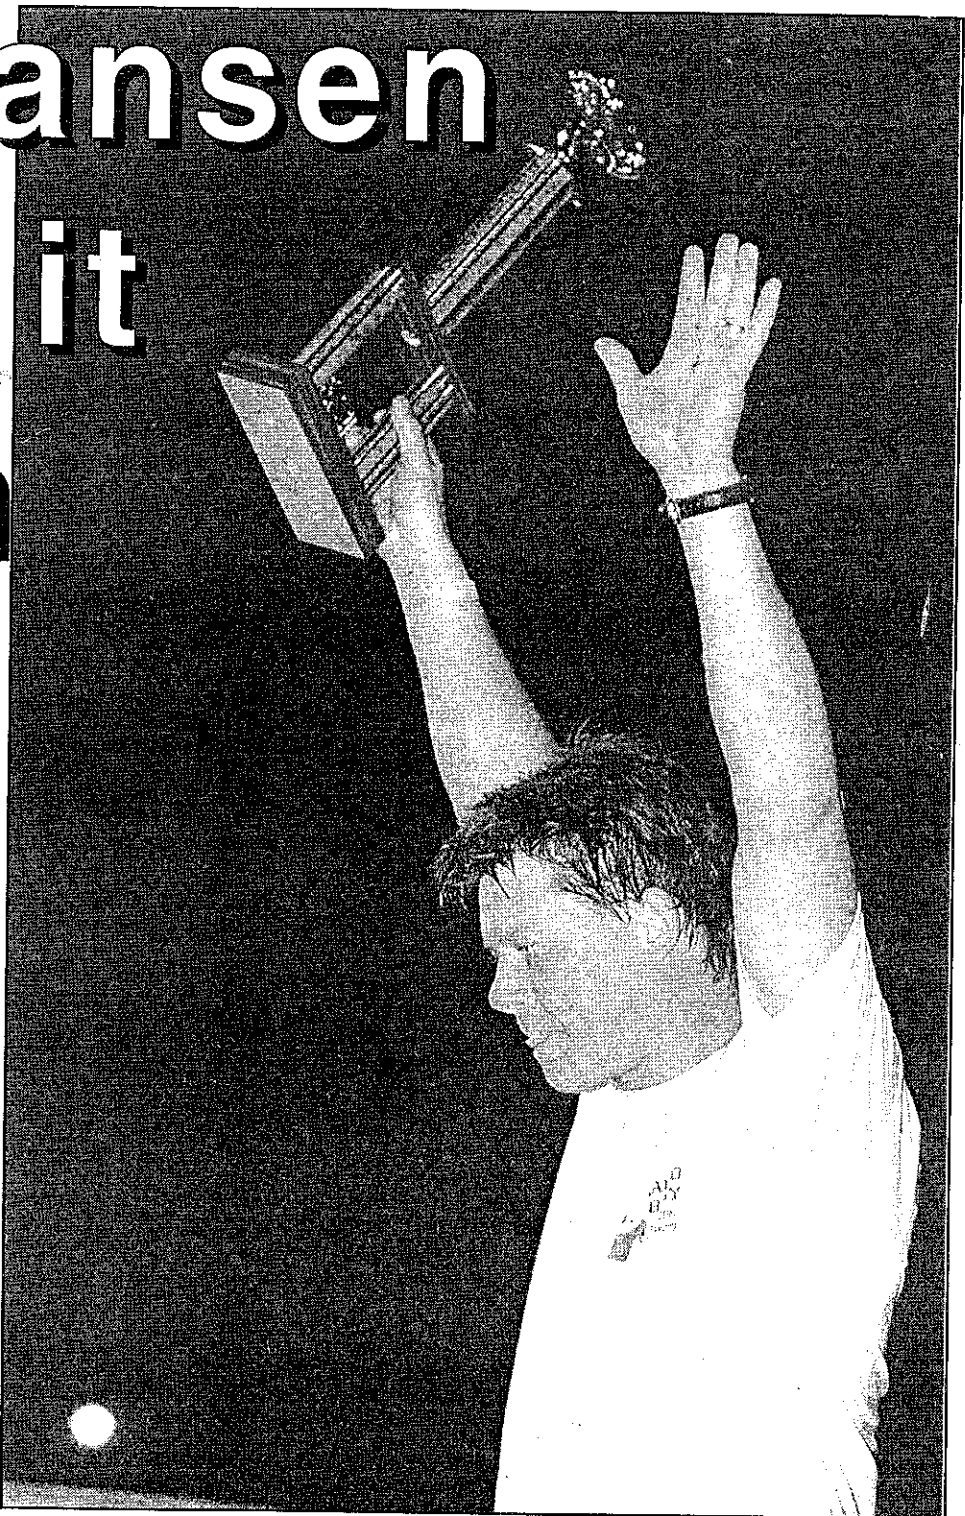

Johnson was in the middle of a duel with Joel Carlson of Winside, when entering turn three Carlson had a tire go flat. Unable to control the car, he drifted high into four taking Johnson with him.

With the bottom of the track wide open, Termansen and Chris Johnson of Bloomfield zipped passed to take over third and fourth.

Termansen and C. Johnson, who came through the field together, grabbed the next spot getting by Mike Timm of Pierce a lap later.

For the next three laps they battled with Russ White of Norfolk, who had led a majority of the laps so far.

Taking the white flag, Termansen and C. Johnson battle side-by-side on the final lap, but Termansen would hold off C. Johnson to take his second straight feature win and his fourth in the last five nights. Johnson nabbed his ninth top five, as White finished third, his best run of the year.

Bloomfield driver Travis Loecker's consistency continued to roll with another top five finish when he placed fourth. It was his sixth straight top five. J. Johnson would round out the top five.

Jason Thoerner of Pilger won the "B" feature over Bernie Berck of Norfolk and Nick Opfer of Hartington. All three advanced to the "A" feature.

Berck had the best effort in the main event with a 10th place finish. Throener ended his night sitting in the infield with huge amounts of smoke coming from under the hood.

Brad Vogt of Napar returned to the track

Zuhlke surprises himself with fifth win of season

"Bizarre" was the word Bancroft Grand National driver Curt Zuhlke described last Saturday night's Grand National "A" feature while Street Stock driver Kim Termansen of Yankton described his race as one big "blur."

Zuhlke also pointed to the full moon which came out during the Street Stock "C" feature. That is when the night got bizarre. Up to that point the caution flag only flew twice, during the Street Stock and Grand National heat races.

During the Street Stock "C" feature, Terry Walker of Norfolk took a wild ride through the guard rail in turn three, just after the moon became visible in the east.

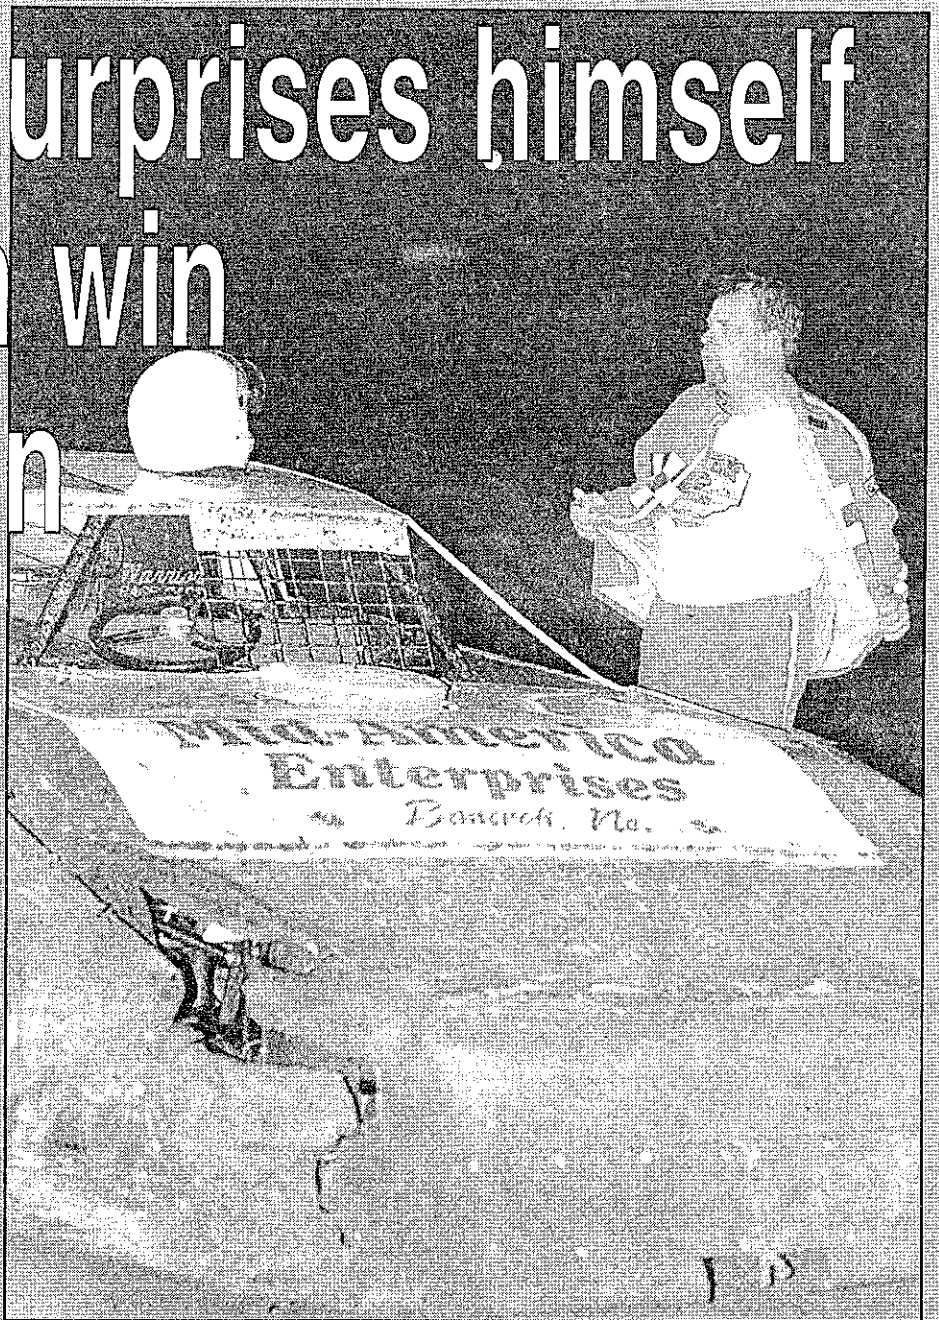

Walker's accelerator stuck going down the back stretch and when he entered turn three he could not stop. Going straight up the banking, Walker punched his way through the guard rail and then flipped to his roof going down the hill on the outside of the track.

Track safety crews helped Walker from his car. Walker was able to walk away.

It was Bancroft Grand National driver Curt Zuhlke's fifth win of the season, as he battled long and hard with Reggie Roth, also of Bancroft, throughout most of the 25-lap race.

In fact, Zuhlke was so involved in racing Roth and Jay Smith of Norfolk that he did not even know he had won the race.

He said he thought he took the white flag, but thought Bob Milander of Norfolk was leading. Milander, who was nearly a lap down, was spun out in turn two, and was a straight away ahead of the leaders, making it look like he may be the leader.

Zuhlke watched the flag stand closer on the final lap to see who would get the checkered flag. He felt he received it first, but he was still not sure when he pulled to the front stretch to collect his trophy.

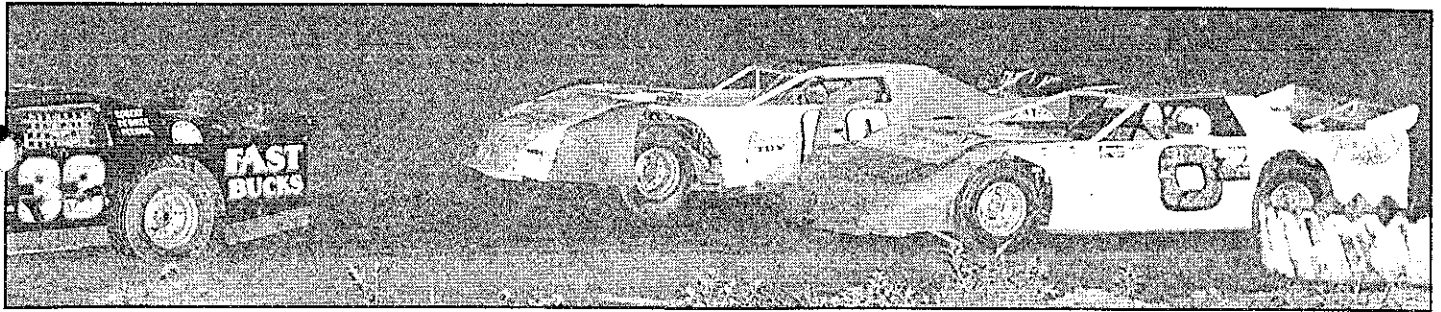

However, if anyone told Zuhlke at the beginning of the night he would win the main feature, he may have laughed.

To start the night, Zuhlke said his engine developed a miss. Tearing the engine apart twice before the "A" feature, Zuhlke was not sure of what the problem was, but when the "A" feature began the car was perfect.

"It was like it was on a rail," said Zuhlke. He went on to say the engine he ran was lacking in power, but the handling made up the difference.

Zuhlke wins

Using his second stock car for the two previous nights, Zuhlke said for sure it would be back here tonight. The only thing, it may have a different engine.

Scott Phillips of Norfolk led the first 15 laps of the "A" feature before Roth took the point. Zuhlke had more trouble getting through the field than Roth did. When he finally moved into third behind Roth and Phillips, the two lead cars had a good lead on him.

"The car was handling so well I caught them in a single lap," Zuhlke said.

As Zuhlke got closer to Roth he noticed his competitor had a flat tire. Roth continued to run hard, but had difficulty keep his nose in front of him the corners.

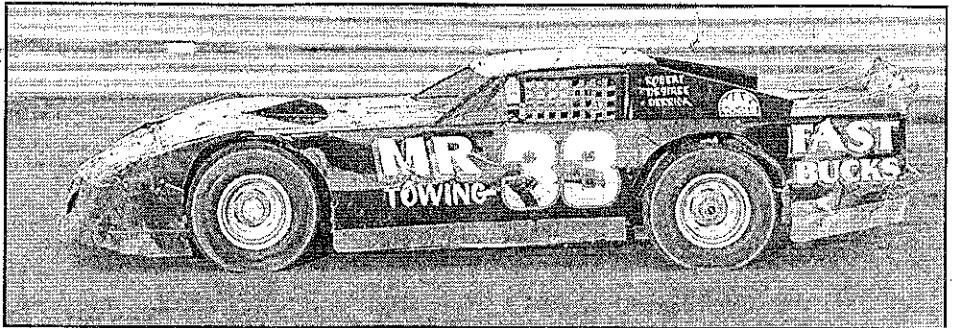

Zuhlke said he saw Roth had a flat, but knew the veteran would not back off. Finally on lap 22, he got by Phillips and Roth to take over the top spot.

Zuhlke would led last week's winner Smith across the line to take home win number five, as Smith grabbed his second runner-up finish and his sixth top five of the season.

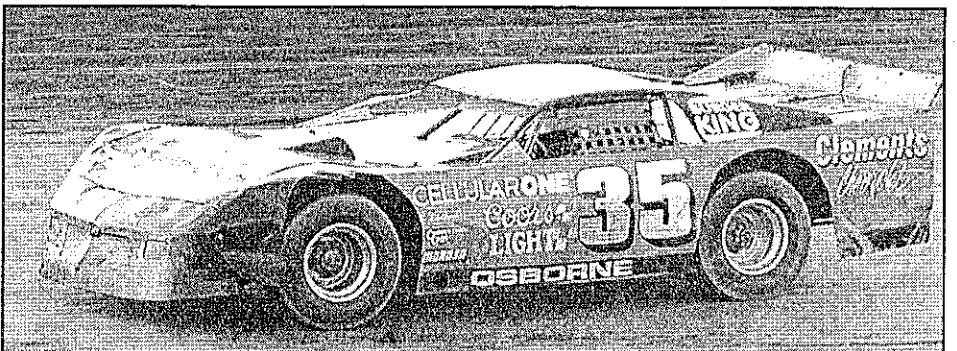

Phillips would hold onto third, his first top five finish of the year in nine "A" feature appearances.

Keith Hansen of Norfolk came across the line fourth, tying his best effort of the year.

Jeff Haase of Norfolk rounded out the top five, giving him his fourth top Defending points champion Robert Osborne (35) regains the lead in the point standings.

Travis Roth of Bancroft claimed the "B" feature win, leading Raymond Haase of Norfolk and Jon Haase of Plainview to the line.

T. Roth had the best finish between the trio. He finished sixth.

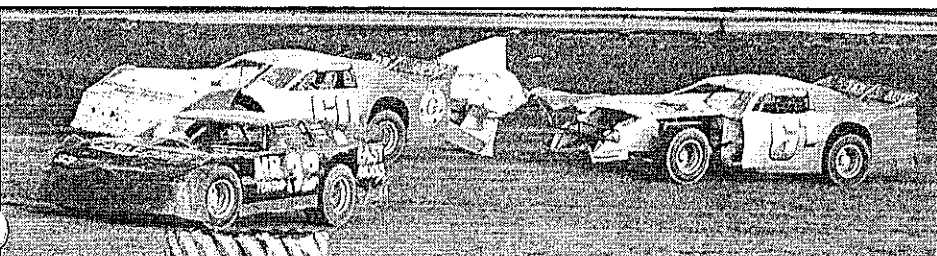

Heat races went to Hansen, Robert Osborne of Norfolk and Vic Lovejoy of Meadow Grove.

In the points battle, Osborne regains the top spot despite his seventh place finish. It was only the second time this year he did not have a top five run.

R. Roth, who went into the night with a two point lead, dropped to 11th at the end of the feature. He now is second points 11 points behind.

Zuhlke continues to eat away at the leader, but still is 76 points back. Zuhlke his third in points. Lovejoy is fourth and R. Haase is fifth.

for the first time this year to win the "C" feature. Randy Bertschinger of Creighton and Nick Cautrell of Bloomfield was third.

Terry Walker of Norfolk, who had a hard impact crash on the front stretch several weeks ago, had another eye opening experience, when his accelerator stuck and sent him through the third turn guard rail. He landed on his roof on the outside of the track. He was able to walk away from the incident.

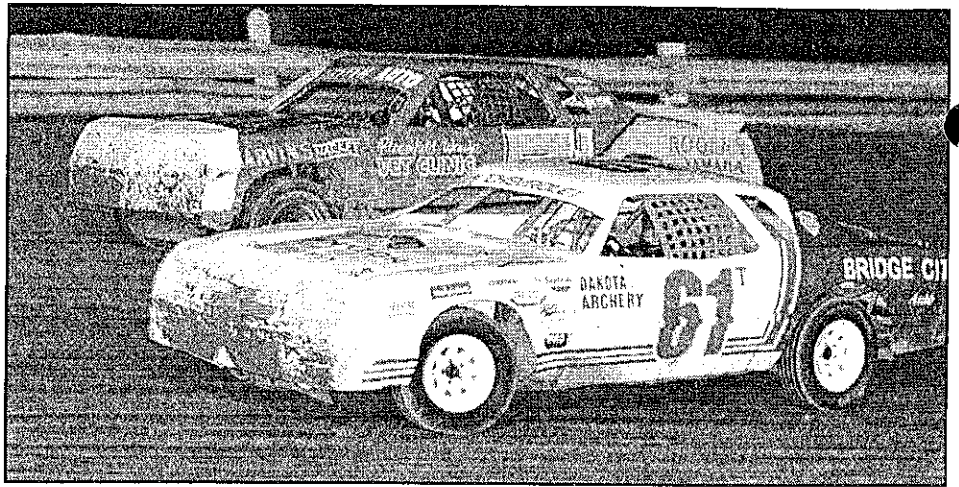

Heat races went to Chris Gulovsen of Norfolk, Carlson, Loecker and C. Johnson.

In the points chase, Termansen has gone from eighth to first in the last five weeks. He has won four of the last five nights at the track.

Loecker's fourth place finish allowed him to maintain his second place in the points. He trails Termansen by one point.

C. Johnson jumped to two spots to third and trails Termansen by 10 points.

Ron Pettitt of Pierce came to the track last Saturday with the points lead, but would leave fourth. A flat tire would send him to the pits, giving him a 14th place finish.

Darrell Doerr, who also never got to his best form, dropped to fifth, 51 points off the leader.

Rounding out the top 10 where: J. Johnson, Carlson, Opfer, Dennis Martz of Norfolk and Jim Kimmel of Norfolk.

The top six cars are separated by 58 points.

Out of the top seven drivers C. Johnson is the only driver not to lead the points this year. However, he has the most top five finishes with nine out of the 13 features run.

Track safety crews tend to Terry Walker (79) after his car went through the guard rail in turn three. He was able to walk away from the incident.
