Fifth win

Primrose tops field again

Shawn Primrose of Norfolk is the man to beat in the Street Stock class.

Not only did he win the feature Saturday night he finally moved to the top spot in the track championship points.

All three drivers in the top three spots for the track title are former champions. Primrose's uncle Ron Pettitt of Norfolk has led the field and Brian Koch of Norfolk and Primrose have battled back and forth for the second and third spots.

Primrose's fifth win of the season slings shots him to the leader in the class.

In the "A" feature last week, Chad Bruns of Wayne led the first six laps.

Primrose quickly worked his way through the 15-car field and was challenging Rick Hansen of Meadow Grove by lap four. Primrose started ninth.

After getting by Hansen, he worked on Vanosdall for second, however, Vanosdall was unwilling to give it up. Vanosdall battled with Bruns for the lead which he got on lap seven.

Vanosdall led three laps before Primrose got out front to pace the field for the final nine circuits.

Primrose recorded his fifth win and eighth top 5 in 11 nights. Vanosdall finished out the race second.

TeJay Mielke of Norfolk worked from his seventh place starting position to break into the top three on lap 12 of the 18-lap feature.

He battled side-by-side with Hansen a couple of laps, but secured the position for the final four laps.

Hansen edged out Bruns at the checkered flags for the fourth position and Bruns rounded out the top 5.

TeJay Mielke (77) won his heat race and raced to a third place in the "A" feature.

Chad Bruns (11) picked up his first top 5 finish, placing fifth in the main event.

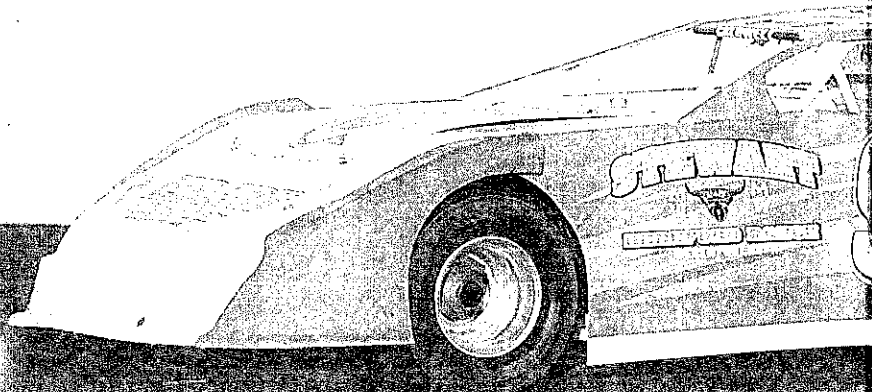

Above, Brian Koch suffered a flat tire in his heat race, but still finished fourth. He later finished sixth in the "A" feature. Left, Eric Vanosdall (36) backed up his win from the previous night's win with a runner-up finish in the "A" feature.

Ryan Rohde (95) sends a rooster tail of dirt after spinning out in his heat race.

Sophomore driver does it

Caldwell earns first f

Second year driver Taylor Caldwell of Stanton put together a great night of racing winning both his heat race and his first "A" feature.

Caldwell started on the inside of the second row and by the end of the first lap, he was challenging Warren Jensen of Norfolk for the lead.

Once out front, he was gone.

By the completion of the 10th lap, Caldwell had stretched the lead by a full straightaway over Jason Renz of Thurston, who slipped into the second position on lap five.

Renz dropped to third on lap 18 of the 25-lap feature when Robert Osborne of Norfolk made the pass.

The gap between Caldwell and Osborne only slightly decreased though Caldwell started to lap traffic.

Caldwell went on to take the feature win. It was the fourth top season for the teen driver.

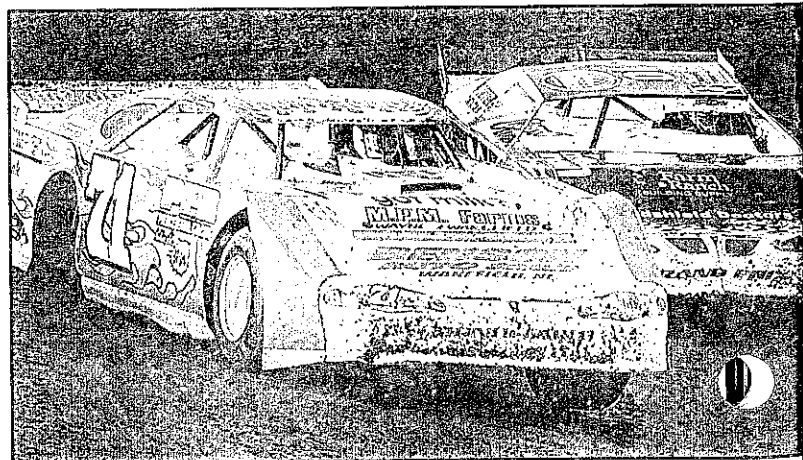

Osborne picked up second place in his fifth top 5. The multi-defender champion also regained the top of the points.

Third went to Renz for his top 5. Cory Haase of Norfolk finished fourth. Rounding out the top 5 was Tomka of Stanton.

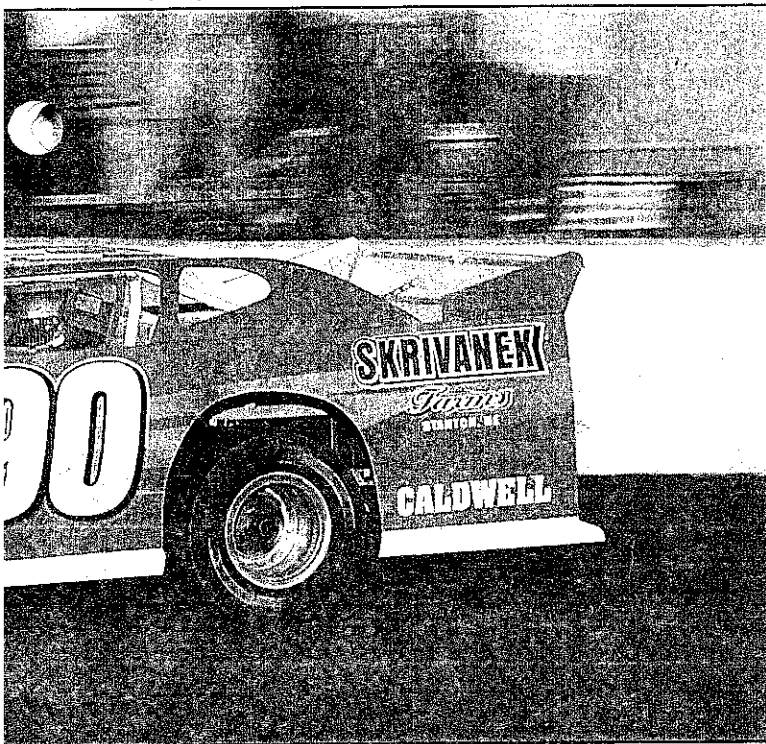

Jeff Haase of Norfolk won the feature with Cody Cox of Norfolk.

Taylor Caldwell (90) celebrates after winning his first "A" feature.

Mike Benson (71) leads Kyle Coover (10) in their heat race. Benson finished eighth on his first night this season.

MD Sehi (16x) exits turn four during his heat race.

Grant Hurlbert (85) won his heat race and was seventh in the feature.

Spann grabs second win

Sean Spann of Wayne had never been out of the top 5 all season until a failing a post race inspection several weeks ago.

Last week, Spann went back to work and won after struggling the two previous weeks.

Neil Korus of Genoa jumped out to the early lead, pacing the field for the first three laps.

Spann moved into the top 3 on the second lap. He ran second after the third lap and was leading the field by the fourth lap.

He continued to lead and picked up his second win of the season and his eighth top 5.

Korus, who has raced at the track for the third week, posted his best finish at second. Mark Arduser of Battle Creek ran third for the final six circuits.

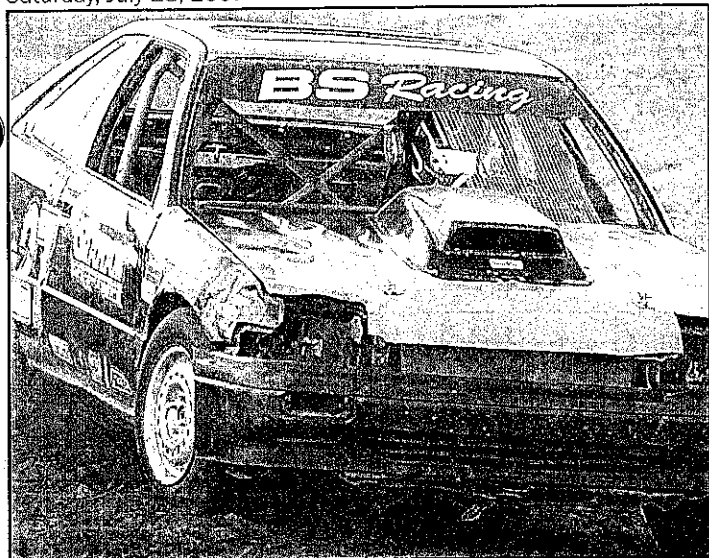

Jeremy Hoskinson of Norfolk placed fourth and Jeremy Brabec of Norfolk was fifth.

Barg first victory

Stacie Huttman of Stanton and Shannon Pospisil of Norfolk got together twice Saturday night.

However, the second time it cost both drivers a chance for the win.

Huttman jumped out to the early race lead from her pole position in the feature. Pospisil settled into the second.

Pospisil, who has won six of the eight features this season, did everything he could to get around the leader, but Huttman mirrored his moves.

Earlier in the night, the two had tangled in their heat race which resulted in Huttman spinning down the back stretch. Pospisil was sent to the back and Huttman went on to win.

However, the feature was handled differently. Pospisil gave Huttman all the room she needed as he tried high and low to get around.

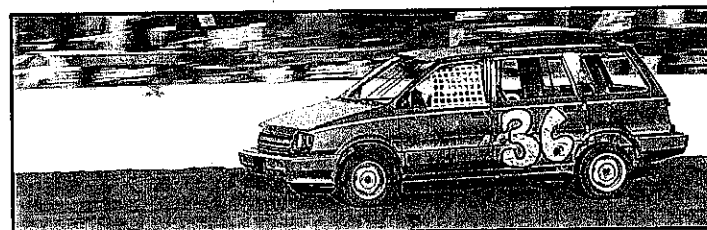

Finally coming out of turn four on the final lap the two got together and spun to the infield which left the door open for Jeremy Barg, who had watched the show for the final laps from the third spot.

It was Barg's first win of the season, but the cars third win. He shares a ride with Eric Sloan of Norfolk, who has won twice.

Pospisil was giving second and Huttman was credited for third.

Stacie Huttman (07) spins down the back stretch after she tangled with Shannon Pospisil (00) in their heat race.

Jody Mach (36) took his mini van to a fifth place finish in the main event.
